The first crosses were raised here in 1831 by the relatives of the victims of the anti-Russian uprising. More crosses went up in memory of those killed in the peasant rebellion of 1863. It soon became a place of devotions. After World War II, the Soviets prohibited visiting this place and punished those who disobeyed with imprisonment, Siberian deportation or death.

DAY 10) SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 20: ŠIAULIAI & ŠILUVA

(Continued). Over time, the communists struggled with the Lithuanians over the erection of the crosses, which were bulldozed on 3 occasions, but the Christians kept planting new crosses (more than 50,000 since 1975 when the last bulldozing occurred). This place provides a perfect visual symbol for Religious Freedom. Next, we visit the town of Šiluva to learn about a most special and amazing Marian Apparition that occurred here in 1608. Our Lady of Šiluva first appeared here weeping before Protestant children! The fascinating story develops like a wonderful movie! Mass is celebrated in thanksgiving to our Blessed Mother for her maternal protection. Welcome Home!
